Services for the Construction Industry

The Construction Industry Scheme (CIS) sets out the special tax rules for subcontractors who work in the construction industry.

Whether you are the contractor or the subcontractor, TaxAssist Accountants can help you keep your CIS affairs in order.

How we can help CIS Contractors

As a contractor, you are required to meet specific obligations under the scheme. We can assist with the following for you:

- Register you with HMRC as a contractor.
- Verify your subcontractors with HMRC.
- Ensure you pay your subcontractors correctly within the scheme.
- Supply deduction statements to the subcontractors.
- Keep your records in good order and supply HMRC with a monthly return.
- Make sure you do not incur penalties by failing to submit your monthly returns to HMRC.

How we can help CIS Subcontractors

If you are a subcontractor, you should register with HMRC so a contractor can deduct CIS from your payments and pass to HMRC. These deductions count as advance payments towards your tax and National Insurance bill.

If you do not register, contractors must deduct 30% from your payments instead.

We can:

Register you as a subcontractor with HMRC.

Manage and organise your business records.

Prepare your end of year self-assessment tax return and calculate your tax liability or refund or tax liability where applicable.
